Dear Mr. Weisberg:

I greatly appreciated your hospitality and company this past weekend and the insightful information and viewpoints which you offered. Obviously, I will need to do some significant rewriting of my manuscript to reflect certain corrections resulting from the information you provided—e.g., the F.B.I. never had actual or constructive possession of the Bronson film, the effect of the Martin photograph and Arnold affidavit on the Oswald/Lovelady controversy, etc. I also intend to expand upon issued express by Epstein of the inharmonious investigative roles of the Commission and F.B.I.

Presently, I am reading Act of Treason by Mark North, a very excellent volume, and per your suggestion, I am next going to review Meagher's works.

Finally, I furnished you some manuscripts on medical evidence which I have discovered still were not complete and were missing pages containing additional text and citations. Enclosed are the complete copies of those documents. Also, enclosed is an old article from the Midlothian about the death of Lovelady.

You were a helpful and it is abundantly clear that you are extremely knowledgeable and exacting in your approaches. I enjoyed your company immensely under what must be very trying conditions with the absence of your wife from home.

Very truly yours,
